

End of Project Write-Up

I did this project solo, as such all the contributions were made by me, but not all code used is mine. I used Unity3D to make the application and a few third party plugins that it relies on to function. I did write my own scripts to interface with these plugins and APIs, and my other big contribution was making the 3D animations and some of the 3D models used in the videos.